Aspirational & Ambitious Kind Community Spirit Inclusive Honest Creative & Imaginative

Message from Mr Statham

After a full-on week of SATs, the Y6 children are spending the day today recuperating. They are going to the cinema to watch Sonic 2 this morning and then have an afternoon lunch outside as well as very extended play times! The children really did do themselves proud this week and all worked hard to deliver their very best. It's not all quite over yet, as from next week their attention turns to Writing and creating their last few pieces for their writing assessment – so attendance is still very, very important.

There are very few of us who enjoy the pressure of tests and exams, but they are part of our education system, so getting practice in early in a friendly, safe and supportive environment like Eastfield is a good place to start.

Dates for your Diary

20th May – World Cultural Diversity Day

27th May – Queen's Jubilee

29th May-2nd June Half Term Holiday

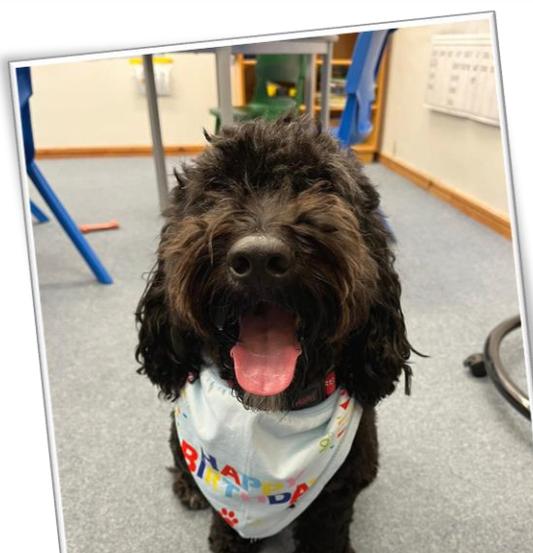

6th June - Additional Day for the Queen's Jubilee – School Closed

Good Luck Year 2

Next week it is Y2's turn to complete their SATs. These are much lower-key than the Y6 ones and we very much ensure the children feel like they are in a 'normal' lesson. But please make sure your Y2 child is in school, well rested and has had a good breakfast.

Scholastics Book Club

On Monday 23rd-Wednesday 25th June, we will be running a book fair in the school hall. Please come and have a browse. It is a good opportunity to get a couple of good books for the summer.

Eastfield Celebrates World Day for Cultural Diversity

Next Friday we celebrate our diverse community. As well as all children and staff being able to come in in either traditional cultural dress or dress that represents their countries colours, there will also be a chance to sample dishes from around the world in the playground after school.

Queen's Jubilee

On Friday 27th June we will celebrate the Queen's Jubilee. Children will take part in activities throughout the day, have a fish a chip lunch outside (weather permitting) and then end the day with a whole school rendition of the national anthem for the parents.
